

Middle-East Defense System Is Proposed On Moscow's Flank

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
OTTAWA—(AP)—Creation of a new Middle Eastern defense system on Russia's flank, with Turkey as the pivotal nation, was reported authoritatively today to be under discussion by the Atlantic alliance.

Top military leaders count on Turkey becoming the key country in such a setup after Turkey is linked to the United States and its allies by a mutual security treaty.

Waiting For Denmark
The Atlantic council meeting here is discussing a proposal to admit Turkey and Greece to the North Atlantic treaty organization. Even if Turkey is not accepted by NATO, tentative plans call for other countries in its strategic area to join it in a new Middle East command.

Military and defense officials of the 12 NATO nations opened discussions yesterday on command problems which would be created by the admission of Greece and Turkey.

The U. S. proposal to enlarge the Atlantic treaty to include them has won the outright support of 10 NATO governments. A final decision has been delayed until Danish Foreign Minister Ole Bjorn Kraft gets new instructions from his government, probably today.

Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange also has withheld approval, but has indicated that Norway will go along if Denmark accepts the proposal.

Separate Pacts Possible
Denmark has opposed extension of the pact into the eastern Mediterranean region but reconsidered its position in view of the almost solid lineup of allied countries in favor.

Should the vote bar Greece and Turkey—unanimous consent is required to amend the treaty—it is understood the United States will turn to some alternative to provide those nations with the security ties they have long sought.

Britain has suggested a "Little NATO" of countries around the Mediterranean as one possible alternative. The American government has considered making direct mutual defense pacts with Greece and Turkey should they be barred from NATO.

Germany May Be Next

While major attention here was centered on the Greek-Turkish issue, there were these other developments as the council's session approached its close tomorrow:

Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison of Britain said in a public speech that the North Atlantic treaty organization could be developed into an "Atlantic community" in which all people would have common citizenship. Secret-

LONDON—(AP)—Worried Britons speculated today on King George's illness as they waited for more details on the lung disease affecting the 55-year-old monarch.

Starting at dawn, London news stands did a land-office business as commuters snatched papers carrying headlines like "serious news" and "King's lung is affected."

Doctors for the tired monarch disclosed last night that "structural changes have developed" in one of his lungs, indicating a serious ailment. A medical bulletin last night gave no explanation of the condition.

Nine doctors signed the bulletin, including a tuberculosis specialist.

A London lung specialist—not one of the nine examining the king—said "structural changes" can mean any of several lung diseases. He said the wording of the bulletin "suggests the doctors are not sure what is the whole trouble."

Cicero Police Chief Indicted For Laxity In July Race Riots

CHICAGO—(AP)—The police chief of suburban Cicero and five other persons were indicted yesterday on charges growing out of the race riots in Cicero last July.

The Cook County grand jury charged Police Chief Erwin Konovsky, 46, with misconduct in public office. His bond was set at $5,000.

The five other persons were accused of conspiring to injure property, cause financial loss to property owners and to cause riot.

The rioting on July 10, 11 and 12 followed attempts of Harvey E. Clark, Jr., a Negro bus driver to move into an apartment building in the all-white suburb.

Five companies of state guardsmen were called out by Gov. Adlai Stevenson to suppress the riot. The five conspiracy defendants included Mrs. Camille De Rose, former owner of the apartment building which was badly damaged by a mob estimated at 5,000 persons.

Revival Of Iran Oil Talks Urged In U. S. Message

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States made public today a three-point proposal for reviving deadlocked British-Iranian talks over control of Iran's strategic oil industry.

Presidential Assistant W. Averell Harriman told Iranian Prime Minister Mossadeq in a letter outlining the American proposals that Iran must be "practical" if her dispute with Britain—generally viewed as dangerous to Middle Eastern peace—is to be settled.

Harriman wrote Mossadeq that "negotiations can soon be resumed" if the premier accepts the U. S. proposals as a basis for discussion. This might indicate Harriman had talked them over, at least informally, with the British, and got their approval.

The three points called for "competent" management of the Iranian oil industry, under the aegis of the company Iran set up after nationalization; compensation to Britain, and British control of overseas sale and distribution of Iranian oil products.

Refusing to transmit a 15-day Iranian ultimatum to Britain, President Truman's foreign affairs assistant said the terms laid down by Mossadeq in the ultimatum were largely the same as those the British rejected last month when negotiations stalled. Harriman went to Tehran, Iran's capital, in a fruitless attempt to end the dispute brought on by Iranian nationalization of her British-run oil industry.

Several times during the bitter fight Randolph and Ullmann carried wounded down a hill to an ambulance jeep. Later Randolph stopped his jeep and, under fire, helped pick up a mortally wounded sergeant. A machinegun bullet went through the jeep hood.

Aided by two infantrymen, Randolph lifted the dying man into the jeep. He carried him and two other soldiers back to a medical aid station. The sergeant died from loss of blood.

A recorder's (criminal) court jury of eight women and four men found him guilty after two hours' deliberation. Judge Gerald W. Groat set Oct. 17 for sentencing. Castelveter could get up to 15 years in prison.

New Car Price Increases May Be Announced Today

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Price boosts on General Motors autos will be announced shortly—probably today—following an okay from the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS). The government allowed price hikes of $61 to $209 on retail factory prices.

The OPS action, announced late yesterday, permits dealers to raise prices to the buying public on all cars contracted for after today from GM, the giant of the industry.

At the same time, the Studebaker Corporation asked OPS permission for price boosts ranging from $15.78 to $117.36 at the factory retail level. OPS has already told car manufacturers they may obtain price boosts, but a five-day waiting period is required after detailed schedules are filed.

OPS granted manufacturers the right to ask higher prices because of increased labor and raw materials costs since the start of the Korean war.

Ford put its new price schedule—calling for increases from $55 to $95 on its Ford, Mercury and Lincoln lines—into effect Saturday. Chrysler's new prices went into effect Monday. They range from $90 to $400 on Plymouths, Dodges, DeSotos and Chryslers.

The General Motors increases at factory retail, as announced by OPS, range as follows:

Chevrolet—$61.74 to $93.09; Pontiac from $60.83 to $94.03; Oldsmobile from $75.01 to $109.04; Buick from $90.41 to $172.38; and Cadillac from $116.07 to $208.85.

Tax Increase Aimed At 7 Billion A Year Promoted In Senate

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today he and other Senators will fight to raise the Senate's tax increase bill to at least a $7,000,000,000 annual level.

The Senate finance committee late yesterday formally reported a measure which Chairman George (D-Ga.) said should bring in about $6,000,000,000 of new taxes in a full year of operation. Floor debate on the measure—one of the last must bills to come before the Senate before adjournment—may begin late today.

Beginning tomorrow, Democratic leader McFarland of Arizona plans to start sessions two hours earlier than usual (9 a. m. EST) in an effort to get the bill through speedily.

Humphrey told a reporter he and his associates, including Senators Douglas (D-Ill.) and Lehman (D-Lib. N. Y.), feel at least $7,000,000,000 in new revenue will be needed for a balanced budget in the fiscal year which began July 1.

For this reason, he said, the group will sponsor amendments to restore cuts made by the finance committee in the $7,200,000,000 tax boosting bill passed by the House. President Truman asked for $10,000,000,000.

George told newsmen he expected amendments such as those planned by the Humphrey group "It's all right with me if anyone wants to offer amendments to take more money out of the pockets of the American people," the veteran chairman commented. "I'm not going to do it."

George would not predict the outcome.

Educator Loses Job For Nudism
MCKENZIE, Tenn.—(AP)—A church college zoology professor fired for being a nudist, is waiting today for any reply to his feelings for a new job.

Dr. John E. Bauman, a 59-year-old bachelor who has taught in church schools since 1918, said he hoped he will find some school that "stands up for academic freedom."

But the man who fired him—President Roy N. Baker of the Cumberland Presbyterian church's Bethel college here—doesn't think he's got a chance.

"I don't think another church school in the country will employ him," he said.

Bauman's contract was not renewed at the end of the summer term when college officials learned he was a member of the American Sun-Bathing Association.

He had been a faculty member three years, and a nudist ten.

Liaison Team Of UN Goes To Neutral Zone

Truce Discussions May Be Revived

TOKYO—(AP)—The United Nations command tonight agreed to a Communist request to send a liaison team tomorrow to the Kaesong neutral zone, site of the suspended Korean war armistice talks.

The Reds made the request shortly after the U. N. command announced that four unarmed South Korean soldiers yesterday mistakenly entered the neutral zone.

Meeting at 6 a. m.

The Red request for a meeting raised speculation that the Communists may want to discuss resumption of the stalled talks, or they may want to lodge another charge of Allied violation of the neutral zone.

The Reds broke off the talks Aug. 23 after charging that an Allied plane tried to "murder" Communist armistice negotiators with strafing fire in the zone the night before.

The Reds asked for a meeting with Allied liaison officers at Panmunjom, Communist outpost near the edge of the neutral zone, at 6 a. m. Thursday (4 p. m. Wednesday EST).

Brig. Gen. Frank A. Allen, chief of information, general headquarters, said the U. N. liaison officers, accompanied by three correspondents, would meet with the Reds.

Armed With DDT

American Jets Whip Red MIGs

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea—(AP)—American jet fighters today shot down one Russian-type Mig-15 jet and damaged five in a furious air battle over northwestern Korea.

Only a few American F-86 Sabre jets and F-4 Thunderjets clashed with eight MIGs in the fight over Mig alley, not far from the Communist pilots' Manchurian sanctuary.

The kill was credited to Capt. Dennis L. Skeen of Twin Falls, Idaho.

On the ground allied troops straddling a newly-won peak on "heartbreak ridge" in eastern Korea hurled back two Communist attacks Wednesday.

They won the commanding height after a bitter fight that ended Tuesday midnight.

The north-side ridge is 35 miles inland from Korea's east coast.

The Eighth Army reported earlier that three major hills were captured Tuesday by allied forces on the flaming eastern front.

On one, 206 Reds were killed and 37 captured by allied infantrymen struggling up rain-swept, muddy slopes.

Chicago Packers Unable To Bid On Beef For Soldiers

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Army quartermaster market center at Chicago reported today several major packers say they can not bid on an Army request for 13,000,000 pounds of boneless beef needed to feed troops throughout the nation. An Army spokesman said it is understood price controls are the reason.

A telegraphic notice was sent to all the nation's meat packers by the Chicago center Monday. The bids will be opened at noon today and the results announced by the Office of Quartermaster General in Washington.

A Chicago area marketing officer said most of the large packers told him by telephone they could not supply the beef at this time.

Mayor Offers $500 Reward For Capture Of Ann Arbor Killer

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—Mayor William E. Brown, Jr., has offered a $500 reward for information leading to the capture of the bludgeon slayer of Nurse Pauline Campbell.

The mayor said yesterday the reward offer was a personal one. There was some consideration of building up a bigger reward fund.

Police had hardly any clues in their search for the man who clubbed the 34-year-old nurse to death Saturday midnight in front of her rooming house.

A psychologist described the killer as "a man with a phobia of disease against nurses, who may strike again."

This university community continued protective measures. Extra police officers were assigned to the area about St. Joseph Mercy hospital where Miss Campbell had been employed.

The city council ordered a survey that may lead to improved street lighting. Deborah Bacon, dean of women at University of Michigan, advised freshman women, the only coeds on the campus in orientation week, to stay indoors after dark and travel in large groups.

Three other women were slugged or molested in the hospital area shortly before Miss Campbell's killing. Their descriptions of their assailant indicated the man wanted is blond and in his twenties.

Stiff Fight Brews Over Charges For Second Class Mail

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Administration leaders were dubious today of their ability to halt a House drive to lighten proposed increases in mailing rates for newspapers.

With the House scheduled to vote by the end of the day on a bill to increase postal rates generally, a stiff fight was brewing over charges for second-class mail.

And, there was House sentiment against raising, as the Senate has done, the cost of an ordinary letter to four cents. But no voice was heard in defense of the penny post card. It appeared doomed to become the two-penny card.

Second-class mail consists mainly of newspapers and magazines. The postal increase bill sent to the House by its postoffice committee proposes that second-class rates be boosted 60 per cent—20 per cent annually for each of the next three years. But an amendment before the House would cut the suggested hike, for newspapers, to 30 per cent over three years. Newspapers mailed in their own countries would continue to pay no postage.

A bill passed by the Senate would boost postal rates for newspapers 30 per cent and for magazines 60 per cent.

The post office department asked Congress to increase the rates for both newspapers and magazines 100 per cent over three years. Any more than a 30 per cent increase, Rep. Withrow (R-Wis.) told the House, might put many smaller newspapers out of business.

Atomic Bombs Cheap In U. S., Senator Says

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Can the U. S. make atomic bombs in abundance and for only $240,000 apiece instead of the present multi-million dollar cost?

Senator Brian McMahon (D-Conn.), top man in Congress on atomic affairs, says yes.

Atomic bottlenecks in materials, production, equipment and design have been broken and the nation can now turn the weapons out in mass production at a cost less than that for a tank, says the senator. (The current price tag on a medium tank is $240,047.)

No Limit On Output
In a Senate speech yesterday, McMahon said he wanted to report that:

"There is virtually no limit and no limiting factor upon the number of A-bombs which the United States can manufacture, given time and a decision to proceed all-out."

The time he put at three years. If, said McMahon, the U. S. will provide this ample arsenal of atomic arms, there will be fewer foot soldiers needed; fewer old style artillery pieces and more guided missiles with atomic warheads; fewer flame-throwers and

Government Steps Up Campaign To Enforce Meat Price Ceilings

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government has stepped up its drive to enforce meat price ceilings.

The Office of Price Stabilization announced yesterday the dispatch of investigators to Chicago, Cleveland, Philadelphia and Newark to see that slaughterers are complying with ceilings on live cattle prices.

Other major cities will also be checked, an OPS spokesman said.

Edward P. Morgan, price enforcement director, said OPS wants to learn if there is substance to packers' complaints they cannot buy cattle at the prices fixed and still remain in business.

Dummy With Headache Fails To Fool Guards At San Quentin Prison

SAN QUENTIN, Calif.—(AP)—San Quentin prison's disciplinary committee has prescribed 29 days in solitary for inmate James Gosiński's migraine headache.

"Migraine headache," do not awake," said the sign prison guards found on the 27-year-old inmate's cell door.

Disregarding the injunction, they entered and found a dummy in Gosiński's prison cell with a toupe of human hair. Gosiński was discovered, headache-less, in the prison yard, waiting to try an escape.

Reds Accused Of Kidnapings

By HAROLD W. WARD
SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—APL leaders today assembled evidence to put before the United Nations charging that Soviet Russia is engaging in kidnappings in Western Germany, Austria and other free areas of occupied countries.

A resolution calling upon the U. N. to launch a full investigation also was being readied for introduction at the AFL convention here, probably Friday.

That resolution will be based on documents collected and verified by the AFL's hard-hitting European staff. Members include Irving Brown, who has been fighting to rebuild in Europe free trade unions friendly to the U. S. and the west generally.

Brown told a reporter the material has been carefully assembled to show that persons are being snatched from their homes or places of business in West Germany and elsewhere, and spirited behind the iron curtain.

While Brown would not identify the victims, it was assumed that at least some were trade union leaders sympathetic to the free aims of the west.

Johnston, Hatcher Will Be Speakers

Eric A. Johnston, Economic Stabilization administrator, and other top-flight, nationally-known legal and educational leaders will appear as speakers during the sixteenth annual convention of the State Bar of Michigan in Detroit, Sept. 26-28, Joseph W. Planck, the organization's president, announced today.

Among the subjects to be considered by the Michigan attorneys attending the three-day meeting will be methods of selecting judges under the "Missouri Plan" revising the out-moded coroner system by instituting a medical examiners system and continuing the development of legal aid and lawyer reference plans to provide legal assistance to all citizens at fees they can afford to pay.

Johnston will speak at the annual banquet Sept. 27 which highlights the Detroit meeting.

Of equal importance will be speeches by Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan; Howard L. Barkdull, of Cleveland, president of the American Bar Association; and Arthur T. Vanderbilt, chief justice of the New Jersey Supreme court. Each of these prominent legal and educational leaders will speak at noon meetings of the convention.

Michael J. Anuta of Menominee, president of the twenty-fifth Judicial Circuit Bar Association, which embraces this county, will participate in a five man panel discussion of the past two years in Michigan law, covering both legislation and court decisions. Other members of the Bar of the Twenty-Fifth judicial circuit will present reports on various activities of the Bar during the past year.

Among local area attorneys making reports are Michael J. Anuta, Ernest W. Brown, Harlan J. Yelland, John J. Walsh, John D. Voelker, Thurman B. Doyle, Paul Rahm, Leon E. Garvin and Wheaton L. Strom.

John J. Walsh is commissioner of the Michigan State Bar in the Twenty-Fifth judicial circuit.

Announcement On Ford Deal Expected Soon

Negotiations for the sale of the Ford Motor company's Iron Mountain plant are progressing on schedule and a full announcement is expected before the end of the month, L. D. Crusoe, vice president and general manager of the Ford division, announced in Detroit.

Crusoe pointed out there is a myriad of detail involved in disposing of the property so large as the Iron Mountain plant.

A great deal of time has been spent in determining what equipment and material can be left in the plant and what is necessary for automobile production elsewhere, he explained.

Not Moving Plant

"We are not moving the plant—we are making it possible for the new owners to take over many parts of it intact and in operation," Crusoe said. "Actually, we are removing from the plant only the machinery and equipment which is a part of the automobile business. And we are trying to make available to the new owners as much equipment as possible so that the transition from our ownership and operation to theirs will result in as little interruption of employment as possible."

Union Objects

At about the same time, members of Ford Local 952, UAW-CIO, adopted a resolution at a meeting held at the Iron Mountain high school calling upon the Ford Motor company to seek defense industry and continue its operations at Iron Mountain.

The resolution also serves notice on prospective buyers of the Iron Mountain plant that "we will use all means at our command to enforce recognition of our continuing rights to seniority, wage rates, pensions and vacations."

It also urges that Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson prevent the building of new Ford plants as long as Ford is "so shamefully abandoning its properties in Iron Mountain."

Health Clerks Convene Here

In-Service Training Conference Held

Twenty-six clerks of six public health departments in the Upper Peninsula attended a two-day in-service training conference at the Webster Annex yesterday and today.

Dr. J. K. Altland, director of the division of local health administration of the Michigan Department of Health, told the clerks that the vital statistics and other records they compile are of great importance to the state and national health program. He described the work of the local unit as being the foundation of the overall health improvement program.

Roy Manty, Lansing, chief of the section of recruitment and training, spoke on "Public Relations as Applied to the Health Program." Participation by the public in the health programs is entirely voluntary, and the degree of cooperation that will be received will depend on the success of the public relations program, he said.

Public relations is not merely newspaper and radio publicity, according to Manty, who said that every health department employee can play an important role in creating a better understanding and appreciation of the aims of the public health services.

Francis D'Amour, formerly of Escanaba, now sanitarian with the Houghton-Keweenaw-Baraga district health department, discussed the clerk's importance to the public health program. Phoebe Anderson, district supervising nurse, also talked on a similar subject.

Public health directors attending the conference included: Dr. D. A. Cowan, Sault Ste. Marie; Dr. J. Tiernan, Munising; and Dr. William Harrison, Escanaba.

Departments represented at the clerks conference were: Alger-Schoolcraft, Delta - Menominee, Chippewa - Luce - Mackinac, Houghton-Keweenaw-Baraga, and Dickinson.

Dr. Elzinga Heard By Medical Society

Orthopedic problems were discussed last night by Dr. Eugene R. Elzinga of Marquette at a meeting of the Delta-Schoolcraft Medical Society in St. Francis hospital at Escanaba, with Dr. F. LeMire, Society president, presiding.

Dr. Elzinga was in Escanaba yesterday in connection with an orthopedic clinic conducted here by the Michigan Crippled Children's Commission.

A moving picture on high speed film illustrating the vocal chords in action also was presented at last night's meeting.

Attending the meeting from outside Delta county were Dr. John W. Towey, superintendent of Pinecrest sanatorium, Powers; and Dr. James Fyvie and Dr. William L. Van Arsdale of Manistiquie.

Loggers Plan Huge Display

Meet In Marquette Sept. 27 To 29

MARQUETTE, Mich.—A million and a quarter dollars' worth of industrial exhibits will be on display and in demonstration here Sept. 27, 28 and 29 during the logging congress sponsored by the Timber Producers association of Upper Michigan and Northern Wisconsin.

Offered entirely without charge, and with the public invited to see every feature of it, the display represents an intensive education in the development of one of the basic industries in this region.

From slant machines that do the work of a hundred men, to the detail of research in the improvement of methods and chemistry of wood and paper, the exhibit covers the whole field of the timber industry and its allied lines.

While this is primarily a timber producers' event the processors take a definite interest in it, and those who take advantage of the invitation will see a variety of uses to which wood and its by-products are put. They will also see demonstrations of newest equipment being used for the de-

Native Of Marquette Acting President Of William And Mary

WILLIAMSBURG, Va.—(AP)—Soft-spoken, popular Dr. James W. Miller, a 49-year-old teacher of philosophy, today assumed his duties as acting president of historic William and Mary college.

"With great reluctance," the graying scholar last night accepted the position to which he was appointed late yesterday by this executive committee of the W. & M. board of visitors.

He succeeds Dr. John E. Pomfret, who resigned Sept. 13 after the board had criticized his administration's handling of an athletic scandal at the college.

Dr. Miller, a native of Marquette, Mich., is a graduate of the University of Michigan and holds his master's and doctorate degrees from Harvard. He taught at Harvard from 1928 until 1935.

He is one of the most widely-liked professors on the William and Mary campus.

Editorials—

Secrecy Of Relief Rolls Is Federal Law, Not Local Rule

A letter by Gerald Cleary, of Escanaba, published in the Letters column on this page today, takes issue with a viewpoint expressed editorially in this newspaper that the secrecy of welfare rolls is wrong in principle. In his letter, Mr. Cleary defends the policy that provides for the secrecy of welfare rolls as a protection of the dignity of welfare clients.

Mr. Cleary's viewpoint is shared, of course, by many persons, including apparently a majority of the congress of the United States because the secrecy regulation is a federal regulation. There are, however, many other persons — and we think the number is growing—who believe that secrecy of relief rolls is not in the public interest and that it makes possible fraud and corruption in the distribution of welfare funds. Several states have,

Gen. Marshall Merits Gratitude Of Americans

GEN. GEORGE C. MARSHALL is one of the most completely selfless public servants the United States has ever had. His high sense of duty, coupled with a truly illustrious record of achievement, stamps him unquestionably as a great American.

He was the designer of victory in World War II. And after the conflict his was one of the few voices raised against the too hasty demobilization of U. S. forces.

As Secretary of State, he conceived the Marshall Plan of economic aid to foreign countries and laid the groundwork for the important North Atlantic alliance. These are acknowledged to be the most imaginative strides in American foreign policy in many a day.

When a storm of criticism swept Louis Johnson out of the Pentagon last fall, President Truman called on Marshall to come out of retirement to become Secretary of Defense. Putting aside personal wishes, the general responded. In his year as top defense official, he helped mold America's Korean forces into the finest professional army this country has ever had. More than that, he fought gallantly for universal military training to assure the nation a permanent pool of expert fighting manpower.

Yet, like any other human being, Marshall has made mistakes. He has been involved in the most controversial aspect of U. S. foreign policy — the Far Eastern phase. His postwar mission to China has been severely attacked, though the record still is not clear whether his decisions there were his own or the Administration's.

In a democracy, no man, however great, be above criticism. We want no infallibles, like Stalin and Hitler. There is no reason to regret, therefore, the fact that Marshall has felt the lash of political assault.

On two widely separated occasions during his tenure as defense secretary, however, the general was the object of bitter censure which impugned his patriotism. It is abundantly evident from his nearly 50 years of devoted public service that Marshall's patriotism is far above reproach. Those who questioned it merely degraded themselves and contributed to the lowered political morality of the times.

But all that is behind the general now. Once again he has turned toward richly merited retirement, this time perhaps for good. His countrymen offer him, at this ending of a long career, their continuing gratitude for a lifetime of national service brilliantly performed and selflessly rendered.

City Planning Will Be Discussed Here

THE BROAD SUBJECT of city planning, the center of considerable controversy in the community for many months, will be discussed at length Saturday morning at the city hall council chambers. The meeting is open to the public and anyone interested in this subject is invited to attend and to participate in the discussion.

Whether the meeting will develop more understanding or agreement on the legal aspects of planning is uncertain but at least that is the purpose of the meeting.

Unfortunately, city planning and its functions have come to mean different things to different people in the community. Particularly, a controversy has developed around the authority of the planning commission.

That city planning is desirable, even essential, almost everyone concedes, but the proper approach to the end result is the cause of the controversy.

The meeting Saturday should clear the way for better understanding, provided that all factions attend the meeting with sincere desire to attain harmony. The subjects are one of such importance to the community that harmony is essential for success.

Duluth News-Tribune

Comparisons of what a unit of money will buy in different countries or in different centuries are useful and enlightening. They are also explosive, double-edged, and dangerous to the user, unless he is careful, all the time.

For example, the British weekly meat ration went up to 28 cents worth per person. That sounds meager, and it is. But the helpful Associated Press says, "That's about enough for two smallish steaks, and just about double what Britons were getting only a few weeks ago."

Even "smallish" steaks at 14 cents apiece are beyond the imaginative powers of today's Americans. Their cheapness is so startling that we are likely to forget that the British get very little meat, that they cannot be sure their rations will not be reduced again and that because cattle are so constructed, all over the world, many Britons do not get 14-cent steak but something else in the way of meat—and not much, either.

But any fair minded American, whatever his political sand whatever his feelings about Tydings, must certainly insist that no fraudulent photograph has any place in a free and honest American election.

Thus it comes as a definite shock to hear Butler defend the use of the Tydings-Browder picture, especially since he muzzles the flimsy argument that the photograph "illustrated Tydings' attitude."

In other words, a voter looking at the picture was supposed to understand that it did not really show the two men in conversation but indicated Tydings was "soft toward communism."

Come, come, Senator Butler, how far-fetched can you get? This defense of a photographic fraud is no credit to you or to American politics.

Autumn In The Air

There's a lifting of your spirits when the summer starts to fade, and the fall and all its beauty starts a brown and gold parade. There's a hint of frost a-floatin' in the breeze that sways the trees, and the leaves are turning colors just as pretty as you please. Then you're breathing in the glory of the land so good and fair, when the hazy sky is purple and there's autumn in the air.

There's a brand new lease on life you've got when grass begins to brown, and you notice here and there a yellow leaf comes floating down. It's a signal for the harvest that you know is coming soon, and the herald of a night that sports a full and smiling moon. Then somehow you lose your troubles and you haven't got a care, when the changing world around you says there's autumn in the air.

There's a bright and silver carpet soon to grace your fading lawn, when you rise to see the brilliant sun announce another dawn. Then you revel in the pageant that is on every hand, and the wealth of frosty beauty that has come to bless the earth.

And a prayer of thanks you offer for the bounty everywhere, when your spirits get a lift because there's autumn in the air.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Forty-six million dollars may not seem like a lot of money in these days of huge billion-dollar defense budgets, but several hundred thousand little taxpayers have to chip in their withholding taxes every week to raise it. Furthermore, the proposed $46,000,000 loan to the Harvey Machine Co. of Los Angeles by the RFC to make aluminum is one of the largest loans considered in the present cold-war period.

Despite this, this bonanza to Harvey was officially recommended on August 28, and has only now been held up because of new information unearthed by this column.

Aforesaid information shows not only that the Harvey company was recommended by the Navy for prosecution for sabotage during the war, but also was in constant hot water with the Air Force. The sabotage charge was based on Harvey's making of oversized gauges allegedly for the purpose of passing faulty naval shells. And although the charge was not prosecuted, naval authorities expressed the opinion in writing to Washington that the faulty projectiles produced by the Harvey company were likely to jam guns, travel in erratic courses, or explode prematurely.

The full story of how the Harvey family came within a hair's breadth of getting this huge government loan is one of the most amazing stories of this amazing capital.

INVESTING IN THE DEMOCRATS

It began shortly after World War II, when by systematic contributions to the Democratic party, the Harveys "bought in" on the party, first in California, later on the national committee. They also played up local demand for war factories, thus got congressmen from California, Washington and Montana all throwing their weight around for the Harvey loan.

California congressmen were for the Harveys because their plant was located near Los Angeles. Montana congressmen were for the Harveys because the new aluminum plant was to be near the Hungry Horse dam in Montana. And Washington congressmen were for the Harveys because their alumina plant was to be near Seattle.

With this backing, the Harveys camped out in California Congressman King's office as if they owned it, became so insolent with War Assets Administrator Jess Larson that he almost threw Leo Harvey out of the office, and so riled Secretary of the Interior Chapman that he described Harvey as "impossible."

However, each time a government bureau balked at Harvey's terms, he would unloose the congressional wolves, which came swarming down on the executive branch of the government yelling monopoly and claiming that all government orders were going to three aluminum firms—Alcoa, Reynolds, and Kaiser.

This desire to help little business and to broaden the present semi-monopoly of aluminum was the chief and justifiable reason why men like Jess Larson and Oscar Chapman stuck with the deal.

Chapman, however, almost threw in the sponge when he discovered that his former assistant secretary of the interior, Girard Davidson, was one of the Harvey lobbying team, employed to push through the $46,000,000. Catching his ex-subordinate—then working as a special consultant—button-holing officials inside the interior department, Chapman fired him.

But the most amazing feature of these many months of dickering was that no one inside the government ever thought to check with the Army, Navy, and Air Force regarding Harvey's wartime performance. Nor did the armed services take the trouble to warn the RFC, interior department, or defense mobilization.

Had they done so, they would have discovered not only the damning facts published by this column yesterday, but such notations as that of Commander J. C. Arnold, USN, who was stationed at the Harvey plant during the war:

"The Harvey family has repeatedly put pressure on Navy department inspectors and were entirely unethical in dealing with the Navy department," Commander Arnold wrote. He added that he could not induce the company to work on a 24-hour schedule nor on Sundays, despite the Navy's need for shells."

Another significant paragraph in government files is a statement by John T. Hughes, personnel manager for Harvey. Interviewed by government inspectors, he stated:

"The Harvey family is a group of individuals who thought they could buy anything or any person."

In the present case, some officials feel that the Harvey company tried to bulldoze more than buy their way into one of the biggest loans of the cold-war period. For the time being, however, that loan has been stopped.

One More Hurdle

Welfare Chiselers In Northwest Are Traced Through Secret Probe

By ALICE MYERS WINTHER

Special Correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

SEATTLE—Welfare chiselers in the state of Washington have good reason to fear their days are short. Roderic Olzendam, State Social Security Director, has just bared results of a secret probe which disclosed that an estimated 3,900 ineligible persons are receiving public assistance.

"So far as this office is concerned we will not be satisfied until we weed them all out," he declared. County welfare administrators are on their toes to help.

The recent special session of the legislature backed up the social security director with two laws aimed at welfare chiselers. One requires all applicants for public assistance to swear to their need under oath. The other allows prosecution of fraudulent welfare cases on charges of grand larceny.

Since last February a seven-man team headed by Lewis Graves of Seattle, a veteran of military intelligence in World War II, has been conducting a state-wide investigation. Of 528 cases studied they found 3 per cent ineligible and another 16 per cent overpaid. The loss to the state from these two sources is calculated at $4,000,000 a year.

While he does not charge that all ineligible are guilty of outright fraud, Mr. Graves does say the investigation showed many recipients "purposefully withholding information" as to their financial resources.

Charges Of Chiseling

Mr. Olzendam considers the survey an accurate cross-section of the 130,000 persons on the state welfare rolls. It was a thoroughly scientific sampling, he said. The survey climaxes more than two years of determined effort on his part to reduce welfare expenditures through better administration.

Charges of welfare chiseling have been ripe throughout the state for months. But prior to the survey no one knew to what extent it actually existed. So far as is known here the department's investigation policy is a pioneer effort. Illinois has since adopted a similar plan which has reportedly uncovered 7.1 per cent of ineligible on its rolls.

To break down cases of suspected fraud takes real detective work that requires far more time than the regular department visitors have to give. Each of the special investigators has been handling 8 to 10 cases a month. The monthly case load of the department visitor averages between 200 and 300.

Typical Fraud

Most of the fraud cases run something like this according to Leonard L. Hegland, King County Welfare Administrator:

A mother applies for aid to dependent children, saying her husband has deserted her. The department tries in vain to locate the husband. Meantime the law requires that aid be given where it cannot be proved the party does not need it. The department visitor keeps inquiring about the husband. Eventually the department gets a tip that a man, thought to be the husband, is living in the home. The mother still maintains she doesn't know where to reach her husband. The case is turned over to a special investigator who watches the house and tails the man until enough evidence is obtained to break down the woman's story.

The King County Welfare Department alone has prosecuted nine cases since last October and obtained convictions in seven. Eight more cases are awaiting trial, papers have been filed on another nine, and work is being done on still another nine believed to involve fraud.

Most publicized case in recent weeks is that of Andrew and Gladys Harmon a Seattle couple. Mrs. Harmon has admitted she represented herself as separated from her husband while he lived with the family and worked at his rebuilt battery business. She said she taught her children to call him "Uncle Wally" to deceive the Welfare Department. She admitted that since 1944 she has obtained "about $20,000" in direct assistance and medical grants. The case is pending.

Aided While In Jail

Regarding the 16 per cent found to be receiving more money than they are entitled to, Mr. Olzendam said the majority of recipients are not to blame. Most cases result from mathematical errors made by social workers. Overpayments (to the tune of $176,000 a month) will be eliminated in future by use of commercial calculating machines now installed to compute all grants. These will at the same time leave visitors more time for the primary job of investigating and following up eligibility of recipients.

The survey also discloses numerous persons receiving state aid while serving terms in county and city jails. Their relief checks are being canceled.

Mr. Olzendam, who took office in 1949, emphasizes that he is trying to get as nearly perfect administration as possible so that those genuinely in need may get adequate aid.

"Because the available funds are limited, every person who is receiving assistance illegally is stealing from those who are unable to help themselves," he said. He urges every citizen to report any discrepancy of illegal payment to his office.

High Relief Grants

In July, 1949, Mr. Olzendam reported that Washington's overall standards of financial and health assistance for old-age citizens, dependent children, and general assistance were "about the highest, not only in the United States, but in the world." Average relief grants paid by his office in May that year were $75.19. This compared with $71.72 in California, $70.84 in New York and a national average of $48.23. As he further pointed out, despite the fact that in 1948 Washington ranked 15th among the states in income payments to individuals, its average relief grants for all programs in May, 1949, were the highest paid in any state in the union. Welfare payments were consuming 48 per cent of the state budget.

Held largely to blame for the financial crisis in which the state found itself by mid-1950, Initiative 172 was discarded by the voters in November, 1950, in favor of a more conservative, so-called common sense Initiative (No. 178) drafted by the administration "to reduce welfare expenditures to a more realistic and economically practical level."

Mr. Olzendam recently reported that under No. 178 the number of welfare recipients has been reduced from the February, 1950, peak of 192,362 to 130,084 last July. Monthly welfare expenditure last June was the lowest since December, 1948, the last month before Initiative 172 became effective.

Letters From The People

Secrecy In Relief Rolls

Dear Editor:

In your editorials of Aug. 22 and Aug. 30, regarding the Administration of Social Welfare in Delta County, you advocate public inspection of our Relief Rolls. You state that "a person compelled to pay taxes to support governmental services, surely should be entitled to know how his money is being spent."

Your editorials imply that there is poor management—and probably fraud—and that chiselers are being protected—all because the identity of the persons receiving social welfare is not made public.

The Delta County Social Welfare Commission, is composed of high-type—highly qualified men. Harold Gustafson, is the representative of the Delta County Board of Supervisors—William Boyle of Bark River, is the township member—Ed Packenham represents the City of Escanaba and Vincent Johnson, represents the City of Gladstone. The administrator for the commission, under their jurisdiction, is Arthur Gilbert. Surely there is no question as to the ability or honesty of these gentlemen. Former members of the commission, are George Weingartner of Rock, A. T. Sahlberg of Gladstone and the late Ole Thorsen of Wells—all excellent men, with top qualifications.

During my several years of work on veterans matters—many, many times, I have worked with Mr. Gilbert, on assistance to disabled veterans—their wives and kiddies—their dependent mothers and fathers, and Mr. Gilbert and his staff have given every bit of co-operation possible; due to restrictions, rules and regulations it has not been possible for the Social Welfare office to go far enough, and we have extended supplemental assistance whenever possible.

Needless to say, the administration of Social Welfare in Delta County is non-political, non-religious—with every effort directed toward efficient and effective administration.

The question of open inspection of relief rolls is not a new one. Thorough studies have been made, on a state wide and nation wide basis and the overwhelming conclusion of able and practical persons, has been in favor of safeguarding the confidentiality of names of welfare recipients.

There is no doubt that in the many thousands of cases that have been handled, some few errors have been made. Because of the character of the regulations and the high quality of the administration, I am convinced that errors in judgement have been held to a minimum. I am also convinced that abuses in the program are minor, insignificant and infrequent.

Delta County formerly contributed 15 per cent of the budget, the state and federal government making up the balance. Now Delta County has to contribute 25 per cent, which is the reason for Delta

Good Evening...

COLOR TOURING—Northern Michigan hardwoods are accented these days as Autumn locates bright exclamation points of orange and red among the late summer forest greens.

It is the season when blue sky and crisp air combine to set the blood of wanderlust flowing in the veins of all of us—whether we spend our days in city offices or factories or in the farm hay field.

Right now the harvest moon rises like an incandescent yellow ball and late nights are bright with reflected radiance.

Hunters' thoughts turn to a day of shooting in the field, and for non-hunters there is always the Autumn delight of weekend color tours.

SEASONAL CLIMAX—Nowhere but in the hardwood areas of North America do the forests stage their brightest show—a parade of vibrant color unequalled anywhere in nature.

Maples change their green to yellow, orange and red; poplars flare into quivering spires of gold; and the oaks rich reddish-brown adds background of harmony in flamboyant color.

Along roadsides the sumac's scarlet catches even the dullest eye, and bright berries of the climbing bittersweet are like orange periods dropped into sentences composing nature's colorful story.

HOW IT HAPPENS—The familiar legend of Jack Frost painting the forest leaves is no more than legend.

Changing color of the leaves is a story in chemistry rather than a fanciful figure with dripping paint brush. Sap of the tree containing chlorophyll and other chemicals decomposes as the leaf begins its separation from the twig.

This change occurs on the deciduous trees at the close of the growing season. It will happen no matter how late the frost is delayed.

The chemicals trapped in the dying leaf change color, their brilliance or lack of brilliance indicating the amount of sugar in the sap. For that reason the brightest yellows and scarlets will be found in the sugar maple.

The Indians believed the leaves were colored by spots of blood dripping from the ghost of the Great Bear as he was pursued across the bridge of the Northern Lights by departed warriors.

Fanciful? No more so than the Jack Frost legend.

WHERE TO GO—Color tourists need only follow the hardwood forests to find the brightest show on earth.

Some Upper Peninsula areas have more hardwoods than others, but even in the most settled counties there are farm woodlots whose flaming leaves accent a pastoral scene.

For scenic grandeur in Autumn place the Copper Country first on your list, with Munising second. The combination of hills and hardwoods establishes their priority for the color tourist.

Not to be overlooked are the short trips that can be accomplished in an afternoon over good roads.

Highways through federal forests, such as FFH 13 from Nahma Junction north to Munising, provide plenty of color and the opportunity to make a circle tour with new scenery all along the way.

We might conclude that wherever you go in color touring in the Upper Peninsula—you can't go wrong.

Take My Word For It ... Frank Colby Jr.

GAMBOLEING WITH SOME FAMILIAR EXPRESSIONS

Question: Recently I was in a public park with a friend. We were watching the birds and listening to an orchestra. My friend said, "Go feed the pigeons." I took some bread from our picnic basket and started throwing pieces to the pigeons. "No," he said. "Give the orchestra some money!" Isn't this rather an odd way to express the idea of donating to the musicians?—E. S. F.

Answer: "Yes, it is. 'Feeding the pigeons' is a slang expression which carries the idea of giving something away. A similar expression is 'food for the birds'; this usually means that something or other was a foolish action, or that money and time have been thrown away or wasted.

"Feed the kitty" is the expression commonly used in dance halls where the orchestra is paid only by donations from the guests. Often a cat face with the mouth opening into a receptacle for the coins is placed next to the orchestra platform.

"Pay the piper" is sometimes heard with reference to tipping an orchestra or musician; but it refers usually to paying for one's indiscretions. It is based on the story of the Pied Piper who punished the townspeople when they refused to pay him for ridding the village of rats.

"Chip in," as in "let's all chip in and help him," is a colloquialism for "doing one's part." This expression comes from games which require chips as stakes.

"Throw in" carries the same meaning, and originated in the same way; however, "throw in" has the additional meaning of "to concede; to admit defeat." "To throw in the towel," for instance, is a boxing term which means that a boxer concedes the fight to his opponent.

"Put up or shut up" has entered American slang to mean "prove it or be silent." This expression also had its origin at the gaming table. "Divvy up" means "put up your share," or "give me my share."

"Ante up" also originated in card playing; the player places a certain amount of money in the pot before (ante) the deal begins. Its extended meaning is "pay up; put in your share."

Would you like to test your knowledge in the use of words? Frank Colby's leaflet, C-6, "Word Quiz Games," is an interesting way to do it. For a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Mrs. Frank Colby, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Public Relief Is Standardized

Fuel And Utilities Allowances Uniform

LANSING—(AP)—Persons receiving public assistance in Michigan are coming under standardized allowances for fuel and utilities.

State Welfare Director W. J. Maxey said today the State Social Welfare Commission had ordered establishment of uniform standards this summer and that they would be placed in effect gradually as social workers reviewed old age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to the blind and aid to disabled cases.

Standardized allowances for food and clothing have been in effect for some time, Maxey said.

But previously, he said, uniform allowances for fuel, utilities and other basic allotments "have been based on the actual expenses of the client if reasonable."

"The difficulty with this type of allowance," Maxey said, "is that no two people agree as to what is reasonable, and the amount of the allowance depends too greatly on the judgment of individual social welfare workers. Furthermore, the client who was economical in the use of fuel, for example, was penalized by this method, while the recipient who was careless might receive the larger allowance."

Maxey said under the new system each person of the same age and sex, living in similar family circumstances, receives the same allowance for food and clothing. Each family of the same size and composition, living in a six-room house in the same temperature zone of the state, receives an allowance to purchase the same quantity of coal or fuel oil for heating. The actual money allowance for fuel will vary from county to county according to local prices.

A similar system has been established for utilities, he said.

Jeep Takes On Tank, Comes Out The Loser

CAIRO, Ill. — (AP) — A tough jeep charged an Army tank, and it proved only that tanks are still tougher.

The tank was parked outside a Cairo garage, where an Illinois National Guard outfit keeps it, when the jeep came along. Not only did the jeep lose the match, its driver also lost—$100. That was the fine Magistrate Max Bevil fixed for reckless driving.

Senate Passes Bill To Increase Pay Of Government Workers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate passed by voice vote and sent to the House Monday a bill to raise the pay of 1,000,000 government workers ten per cent up to a maximum of $800 a year. It would date back to July 1 and would cost the government some $340,000,000 a year.

A pay raise of $400 a year for Federal employes has been recommended by a House committee but the House has not acted on it. It may later this week.

The Senate Civil Service committee had proposed an 8.4 per cent pay increase in the bill it submitted to the Senate but Senator Monroney (D-Okla.) won approval of an amendment raising this to ten per cent.

Last week the Senate also voted to give some 500,000 postal workers a pay boost of $400 to $800 a year.

Truman Puts Crimp In Bulgarian Trade

WASHINGTON — (AP) — It's going to be harder for Communist Bulgaria to sell her rose oil, goat skins and latakia tobacco in the United States.

President Truman Monday ordered "most favored nation" treatment of these and other Bulgarian exports to this country cancelled, effective Oct. 17. The president acted in accordance with a congressional directive prohibiting continued trade benefits for Soviet Russia and other Communist-controlled countries.

Civil Defense Meeting Held

Plan Program In Delta County

A meeting of the county civil defense officials was held at the courthouse last night and plans discussed for coordinating the efforts of the county and city defense groups.

Attending the meeting were: Hagle Quarnstrom, county director; Harold Gustafson, chairman of the board of supervisors; Sheriff William Miron; Edward M. Gibbs, regional coordinator for mobile support units; H. J. Hendrickson, Gladstone civil defense director; A. V. Aronson, Escanaba civil defense director; Paul Wohlen, U. P. coordinator of civil defense; Glenn Leonard and Robert Clayton, deputy directors in Escanaba.

It was decided to formulate civil defense on a county basis and Harold Gustafson was appointed chairman of an advisory committee for the county organization. Gustafson will appoint other supervisors to assist.

Each civil defense unit in the county will purchase a civil defense film for educational purposes and the various films will be circulated among the entire group.

The U. P. meeting for civil defense will be held at Marquette Friday. Attending from Escanaba will be James Ward, Sheriff Miron, Glenn Leonard and Robert Clayton.

Bookmaker Refuses To Talk At Graft Trial Of Policemen

NEW YORK—Bookie Harry Gross, angry and defiant, declared in court today he will not testify in the graft trial of 18 policemen "now or ever" because he didn't want to endanger his family.

"I'm thinking of my wife and children," he insisted.

Threats by Kings county Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz to send him to jail "for a thousand years" failed to change his stubborn stand.

The gambler's refusal to talk could break up the sensational trial in which policemen are accused of having been paid off at the rate of $1,000,000 a year to protect Gross' huge bookmaking syndicate.

"We have no weapon in our hands to compel him to testify," District Attorney Miles McDonald said.

McDonald scoffed at Gross' worry about his family, and said "we have evidence that a substantial sum of money has been paid" to the gambler to seal his lips.

Agreement Sought On Conflicts Over Great Lakes Level

LANSING—(P)—An attempt to get all Michigan interests to agree on a state policy towards conflicting demands to raise and lower Great Lakes levels was started today.

At the invitation of the State Water Resources commission, a meeting at which the problem will be presented in detail has been called.

Invited were representatives of federal, state and local governments and representatives of resort, tourist, agriculture, conservation and sportsmen's groups.

The demand of Duluth for the lowering of Lake Superior and consequent raising of other lakes and of Chicago to increase diversion of Great Lakes water will be aired.

Bookie Named Joe Says Cops Are Fast

PHILADELPHIA—(P)—There's a Philadelphia bookmaker named "Joe" who's convinced today that police here are pretty fast workers.

Detective Theodore Mitchell recently raided Joe's gambling headquarters, then advised the telephone company to disconnect the phones.

Mitchell kept his eyes open. The other day he spotted "Joe" driving a new car, stopped it to take a better look inside. There he saw a radio-telephone handset dangling from the dash.

"You got a phone in your car," said Mitchell.

"Yeah," replied Joe. "Had it a week and already you're wise."

The telephone company was notified, and Joe's radio phone is gone.

Monroe Traffic Mishap Kills 3

MONROE, Mich.—(P)—An Ohio industrialist and two other persons were killed in a collision of two automobiles near here late yesterday.

One of the victims was a young mother whose infant daughter was critically injured.

Nine-month-old Diane Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Thomas and her husband, Cecil, 24, was critically injured.

With others hurt in the smash-up about 5:25 p. m. the baby was brought to Monroe hospital.

State police ordered the father, driver of the family car, held at the hospital pending consultation with Monroe county authorities.

Police said that Thomas ran a red light at the intersection of Rauch Road and US-23 and the other car struck it broadside.

Thomas escaped with minor injuries. A second child, Joyce Ann, was unharmed. Both cars were hurled off the road.

10-Year Contract For Purdue Coach

LaFAYETTE, Ind.—(P)—Purdue University has come up with one answer to the problems of over-emphasized intercollegiate athletics: Take the heat off the coaches.

Dr. Frederick L. Hovde, Purdue president, disclosed yesterday that the university has extended head football coach Stuart K. (Stu) Holcomb's contract for ten years.

Dr. Hovde said Holcomb's original five-year contract was extended more than a year. The extension assures him a 13-year tenure at Purdue.

Purdue gave Holcomb his long-term contract before his team defeated Notre Dame last fall, ending an unbeaten string of 39 games for the Irish. The Boilermakers lost six straight after that but bounced back to beat Indiana in the big game ending the season.

The South Koreans were held by the Communists 20 hours, then freed.

The Reds had charged that the incident was a violation of the Kaesong neutral zone.

The U. N. command took a lighter view.

It said the four members of an anti-epidemic unit, were "armed with nothing more dangerous than DDT."

The command said the South Koreans were "not mistreated during their overnight stay in Kaesong, nor were their items or equipment confiscated or damaged."

Their truck also was released by the Reds.

Investigation of the Red complaint, the command said, "took place without incident and in an atmosphere almost completely devoid of tension."

Male Nurse Confesses Kalamazoo Burglaries

KALAMAZOO, Mich.—(P)—Roger Winfield 50, was held in jail today while police checked his confessions of three burglaries here.

The grey-haired, neatly tailored man walked into jail Monday night and asked to be locked up. He declared he was penniless and broken in health and wanted the security of jail.

Sheriff Otto K. Buder said the man's story of the burglaries tallied with police records. Only small amounts were taken.

Winfield, a male nurse, said he had been released from Fort Madison, Ia., prison a year ago. He said he was depressed because the burglaries netted only small returns and he had injured his hip in a recent robbery attempt.

Government Lifts Lid On Price Of Getting Married

WASHINGTON—(P)—The government today lifted the lid on the price of getting married by a justice of the peace. It also decontrolled the charges of process servers for delivery of court papers.

These were among 22 services exempted from controls by the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS). The OPS formally took the wraps off fees of barbers and beauticians—previously exempted by congressional action.

In two other orders today, the OPS:

1. Authorized OPS field offices to make adjustments on ceilings for fluid milk and cream products in marketing areas within their jurisdiction, thus moving a step nearer the principle of community pricing.
2. Authorized packers of canned fruit cocktails and other fruit mixtures, clingstone peaches and California pears, to compute new ceilings expected to bring slight increases for these products to consumers.

In exempting the 22 services from price controls, OPS said "this action will have little effect on the cost of living."

Among services whose fees are exempted are real estate brokers and appraisers, labor relations and public relations counselors, advertising agencies, newspaper carrier and delivery services, notaries public, ticker services, tree surgery and wrecking services.

Calls Eased Up For Reservists

WASHINGTON—(P)—The defense department said today it is making every effort to minimize further calling up of volunteer inactive reservists.

But, in answer to a question, a spokesman said that such recalls are not stopped entirely.

Of enlisted men in volunteer inactive reserve, the department said: the army and air force are making no calls on these men. The navy expects to stop calling such men by next Jan. 1. The marine corps has virtually exhausted its pool of such reservists.

In the officer category, the army is not now issuing active duty orders to men, but may have to do so in the future. The air force will call only such men as are absolutely necessary for operations, predominantly combat crews requiring long training periods. The navy has a continuing need for such officers "but will minimize its calls to the maximum extent." Like the category of enlisted men, the marine corps has virtually exhausted its pool of officers.

The spokesman said training programs for replacement personnel have been accelerated but the flow still does not yet meet urgent, immediate requirements of the services.

more radiological warfare; planes and submarines and aircraft carriers given unlimited range by atomic engines; ships firing guided missiles with atomic explosives and torpedoes which uncannily hunt down enemy ships.

Pentagon Perks Up

What all this amounted to was a proposal that the American military break with tradition, relegate present weapons to secondary roles and rely on the new atomic fury for waging war.

The Pentagon displayed instant interest. Within an hour after McMahon spoke, the Pentagon had copies of the text under close scrutiny.

Did it mean the Army, or the Navy or the Air Force or all of them would be smaller? (McMahon put strong emphasis on cutting national defense cost.)

How much revamping of tactics and strategy would be required for a military organization using atomic weapons as primary armament?

The Air Force now has bomber units trained and equipped for using atomic bombs. The Army is putting a combat unit into actual atomic explosion tests in Nevada. The Navy has carrier and air crews trained for atomic bomb use. But all of this, except perhaps in the case of the Air Force, has been directed toward use of atomic weapons only as a specialized work, not as the standard major armament.

What McMahon proposes is a "revolution in military firepower." But no one expects, nor does McMahon suggest, that the transition will be abrupt or that all present weapons will disappear from American armament.

tary of State Dean Acheson, in a radio talk, similarly spoke of the time when citizens of the allied countries could move freely across their borders.

There is increasing talk here that Western Germany may be the "fifteenth" member of the North Atlantic treaty—Greece and Turkey being as considered No. 13 and No. 14. Arrangements to bring German forces under Eisenhower's command and simultaneously to give the West German government virtual independence are nearing completion. The speculation is that once these arrangements become effective West Germany will be proposed for membership.

Farmer Not Happy As Oil Floods Farm

TOLEDO, O.—(AP)—Henry Weiss, a farmer of suburban Toledo, had two acres under oil Monday night, but he wasn't doing any celebrating.
The sticky fluid came from a break in an 8-inch pipeline that runs underneath Weiss' six-acre horse farm. Control valves in the Toledo area were turned off, but not before oil covered parts of Weiss' farm to a depth of two feet.
Horses in the meadow were led to safety before the oil reached them.

Outdoors

Porcupines Are Growing Numerous In Northwoods

In recent years porcupines are among the most common animals encountered while driving through mixed woods or evergreen woods of northern Michigan. Night drivers especially see them frequently, and often have to slow down to let them cross the highway.

Porky is in no hurry to cross the road. He isn't built for speed, and doesn't need it to defend himself. Neither does he need alertness of protective coloring to help escape his enemies. He has the quills which cover his back and tail, and which are armor enough when an enemy approaches him. The quills are about three inches long and are equipped with little barbs which make it almost impossible to pull them out once they have been embedded in the flesh of man or animal. Very often the quills have to be cut out.

The porcupine cannot throw his quills, as old stories credited him with doing. When danger approaches, you will see him bury his nose and face under a log, or between his front paws, arch his back and lash his tail. If you are within reach of the lashing tail you'll get the quills, but not otherwise.

Porkies Now Protected
Dogs are perhaps the most frequent victims of the spines. Years ago when deer hunting with dogs was common, dogs often attacked a porcupine, with unhappy results. Dogs used for grouse and woodcock hunting often tangle with them. Formerly, hunters often shoot all porcupines on sight, but now the animal is protected in most states, which is the reason for its increase in population.

Other enemies of the porcupine are wolves, weasels, bears and foxes. When they attack porky they find themselves the victims instead, with faces and throats peppered with quills. Because the quills usually are not pulled out their throats become swollen and sore, swallowing is difficult, and they die of starvation.

One animal credited with knowing how to kill a porcupine is the fisher. He throws the porcupine on its back and slits its abdomen. By man he can be clubbed to death, and there is an unwritten law of the woods that an unarmed person lost in the woods is allowed to kill a porcupine for its flesh, which is said to be tasty.

Although they are rodents, porcupines differ greatly from most other gnawing animals. They are short-legged and slow, their bodies resembling those of beavers except for the additional armor of quills. In Europe a somewhat similar animal, but of a different family, is known as the "hedgehog."

The porcupine found in this area, and westward to the mountains, is the Canada porcupine. In the west there is a yellow porcupine. Our species is dark, with spines tipped with pale yellow. Porcupines grow to three feet in length (including tail), and weigh up to 35 or 40 pounds.

Their food is bark of trees, with such species as hemlock, maple, birch and aspen their favorites. Unlike most rodents, they are not flesh eaters, and live almost entirely on bark. They are very fond of salt. Hunters and woodsmen who leave tools lying around camp very often find handles of axes and hatchets, or other equipment which has become salt-impregnated through perspiration, gnawed by porcupines.

Mate In Fall
Mating takes place in the fall, and the young, from one to four in a litter, are born in late spring. By fall the young are able to care for themselves. They are not true hibernators, but in very cold weather they den up in hollow logs, rock crevices or other shelters, to sleep until the severe weather passes.

When chased by man or animals a porcupine will climb a tree, and then will hang clumsily from a small branch. They are night feeders, which is why we encounter them more often at night, than in the daytime.

Indians used the animal for food, and its quills for decorative purposes. The quills were split or cut in sections, and then were dyed with berries or roots of plants. They were used to decorate belts, head bands, and the handicraft of Indians. The quills served as a puncturing instrument in the squaw's work of beadwork and leathercraft.

Little Factory Builds Miniature War Machines

JOE SLONIM AND BATTLESHIP: The small ones fit in your hand.

By NEA Service

RICHMOND HILL, N. Y.—(NEA)—If somebody told you that one little red brick factory is producing more machines of war than the rest of the world's big plants combined, you'd suspect a trick. You'd be right, too.

Numerically, the Comet Metal Products Co. here is out-producing all other factories in tanks and battleships. But they're all scale models.

The plant turns out 6200 different models of all sorts of war equipment. And the U. S. Armed Forces is the biggest buyer, using them in recognition training and for planning. During World War II, the government used 10,800,000 of the precision products.

Head of the pocket-sized fighting force is Joe Slonim, who boasts that he makes "the finest scaled models ever built." Most of the smallest-size models fit easily in the palm of the hand, although a tiny battleship of the Missouri class may extend a little way up the middle finger. In the largest-scale model, the "Big Mo" is about as long as your forearm.

"Every detail and dimension is accurate," Slonim says. "During the war we worked from full-scale plans. You could have built a General Sherman tank from the blueprints we had in our shop, or maybe even the Missouri. There was so much security we couldn't even have our phone number in the book."

The secret of the models' accuracy lies in the steel dies. Eight master machinists engrave every detail into blocks of solid steel, down to the tiniest gear and rivet.

Many of the techniques used in the plant are secret. They are so successful that they can go from the blueprint of a new model to full production in 72 hours, if they have to work against time. But the normal time is four to 12 weeks.

Besides the military models, Comet turns out other miniatures of things like model railroad accessories, religious medallions and toys. Factory engineers use Slonim's 6000 different machine and fixture models to design new plants. All told, Comet has produced more than 25,000 types of tiny replicas.

"What can we make here?" Slonim asks proudly. "Anything... anything in miniature."

Average length of feeding period for steer calves is eight months.

The double ring ceremony was used.

Pastel gladioli decorated the altar for the service. The music of the wedding mass was sung by St. Thomas choir.

Members of the bridal party were Miss Theresa Pepin, sister of the bridegroom, who was maid of honor, Miss Mary Lou McGovern, bridesmaid, Clayton Marenger, brother of the bride, who served as groomsman at his brother's wedding, and Edwin Shannon and Kenneth Marenger who seated the guests.

White Satin and Lace

The bride wore white slipper satin, the gown designed with a high neckline, stand-up collar, fitted bodice and full skirt ending in a long train edged in wide chantilly lace. The bodice was formed of lace over satin with a peplum of lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion, edged with lace, was gathered to a crown of lace and pearls. Her jewelry, a gold cross, was the bridegroom's gift. She carried a bouquet of white baby mums and red roses with white satin shower ribbons.

The bride's attendants wore identical gowns of taffeta, made with fitted bodices, marquisette yokes with drop shoulder effect and bustle back skirts. Their picture hats matched their gowns. Miss Pepin was in yellow and Miss McGovern in orchid. They carried bouquets of yellow and orchid mums, roses and asters.

The bride's mother wore a black silk dress trimmed with lace and the bridegroom's mother green and white sheer. Their corsages were red roses.

Wedding Guests

The wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents was followed by a reception at Unity hall for 175 guests and a wedding dance. The table was centered by the tiered wedding cake flanked by white tapers.

Mr. Pepin and his bride will live at 507 North 18th street when they return from a honeymoon in Northern Michigan and Wisconsin. The bride is employed at Hamelin's Bakery and her husband is with Hamischfeger.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Shannon and son of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Dor Collard and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Collard and son of Menominee, Miss Mary Lou McGovern, Mrs. Leah Miron and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Nadon of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Alred LeBlanc of Ashland, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson of Marquette, Mr. and Mrs. Richard DeShambo of Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. John Jacques of Garden.

It's Sad But True
If you deal with the non-established, itinerant type of door-to-door photographers that are now canvassing Escanaba . . . You're apt to be sorry about the results.

Be on your guard and wary of anyone offering the following:

- "SPECIAL ENLARGEMENTS" — Your picture may be sent to you glued in a glass frame and that will cost you money.
- "FREE PHOTOGRAPHS" — Just try to order one absolutely free photograph! (No one is in business for the fun of it.)
- "C.O.D. SPECIALS" — Pictures probably won't be as represented and after you've paid for them, what can you do about it?
- "SMALL DEPOSIT ORDERS" — Your pictures may never arrive and your money will be lost.
- "COPIES FROM OLD PRINTS" — Look out for your original copies, it will probably cost you money to get them back.

So Be Wise:
"Don't Expect Something For Nothing!"
Especially From Strangers

Your local photographer is licensed and stands behind his work. It always pays to deal with locally established and reputable businesses . . . it will save you money in the end.

LUDINGTON
BUY-LINES
by Sue Donimus

AS soon as we get in the family car our boy is one of three things—hungry, thirsty, or both! But when we dress him up in that corduroy loafer jacket from The Morrison Shop, he's a little gentleman! These popular, casual coats for boys are of the finest pinwale cord and come in wine, brown, green or royal blue. They're styled with three buttons down the front and patch pockets; lined in a sturdy rayon. In sizes 6 to 12 and priced at just $8.95, these dandy loafer jackets are just the thing to don as a dress coat for Sunday go to meetin' wear. The Morrison Shop has rubbed the magic lamp that turns A-lad-in to a boy wonder!

WEATHER—you like it or not!

And whether you like it or not depends on how you're dressed for it. You can get a warm reception to cool days when you're wearing a Stratolac from Young's Haberdashery. Fashioned from Reeves sanforized gabardine, the jackets are warmly lined with quilted linings in contrasting colors to the jacket; for instance, brown with a gold lining. In all sizes up to 48, the Stratolacs come in maroon, taupe, brown, navy, dark green or sage. With a self-collared, $89.95; collared with luxurious mouton, $34.95. Jack up that fall and winter wardrobe with a Stratolac from Young's!

GENTLEMAN: someone who wouldn't strike a woman with his hat on! But I warrant she'll find him striking with his hat on if it's a hat from Penney's! You know about the Sport Fello from Penney's eh? It's made of the finest fur felt and has these important features: a neat bound edge; a plastic protective liner in both the band and top; Aridex treatment that means the hat is water resistant thru the entire fabric, not just the surface; and a fine rayon satin lining. A Penney's hat will really go to your head at this price—$4.98!

THE easiest way to get back on your feet is to get rid of your car! Or, if your feet are tired and aching, stroke on the amazing new foot aid, "Step Lively". It comes in stick form just like VP the stick deodorant I've told you about before. You just whisk this and in a jiffy they'll feel cool and refreshed. "Step Lively" acts as an effective foot deodorant, too. Guarantee has this new idea in foot comfort, so if you find your pumps are always parked, better pick up a stick tomorrow. Only costs a dollar and it's ideal for men and women in every walk of life! Head for Asp's and "Step Lively"!

WHAT'S the story? It's the "Whistle at Eaton Falls"! I seem to be disturbed it's because I have just seen this unusual motion picture that will blast you right out of your seat! The story tells about a one-factory town whose whole existence depends on whether or not the factory whistle continues to sound. You'll really go for Lloyd Bridges as the union leader who tries to save the shaky company. And for whistle bait they've provided a very curvaceous Anne Francis. This picture is playing right now at the Deft Theater — thru Thursday. What's the big idea? It's the "Whistle at Eaton Falls"! Don't you dare miss it!

I LIKE the woman in the deep "Whistle at Eaton Falls"! She's a lap youngun, a crawler, a porcher, and a yard runner. "Well, honey, chile, for that lap youngun I has just the thing! It's Mother's Little Helper Doll from the Fair Store. This plastic doll is a three way helper. First, it has a zipper pouch front in which to tuck the bottle when traveling (keeps it warmly insulated and clean). Second, it can convert into a holder for the bottle at feeding time. And third, of course, it's a toy that washes off easily with water. Makes a marvelous baby shower gift at just $1.98. Another pouch, $1.69, just doubles as a holder. In pink, blue, maize, mint—at the Fair!

DID you see this one?—"Lost": Tan leather wallet Finder may keep pictures and personal papers, but I have a sentimental attachment to the money!" If you feel sort of the same way about that green folding stuff, you want to be sure to investigate ROW windows when you are doing any building or remodeling. ROW removable windows come as a complete unit that you just slip into place, and you will find them priced much more reasonably than many such units on the market. Stephenson Lumber Company is the place to go to see these remarkable windows. It's the sentiment all over town that Stephenson's is the building company to get attached to!

THERE were just as many careless drivers 40 years ago, but the horses had more sense. But who wants to drive a horse when you can drive a bargain — like a Studebaker, for instance! With its great big beautiful frame, it's nosed right into the low price field of cars. Hard to believe it when you see the sleek engineering, the new high powered engine, and the spectacular upholstery. Better stop at Petersen and Jacobson Auto Service for the smoothest ride of your life—not a bump in a earload!

Death Claims Charles Erickson

Rites Saturday For Veteran Jeweler

Charles Erickson, 81, well-known retired Gladstone jeweler, passed away at his home at 909 Delta avenue Tuesday afternoon. He had been in failing health for five years and invalid since January.

The deceased was born in Dalmarna, Sweden, on June 21, 1870 and came to America in 1892. He came to Gladstone in 1901 and operated a jewelry and watch repair shop here until about a year ago when he retired.

He was a member of the First Lutheran church.

Surviving is his widow, Maria. The body was removed to the Kelley Funeral Home where friends may call starting Friday afternoon. Funeral services are to be Saturday afternoon at 2 at the funeral home.

Fixed Watch in Woods

A stalwart young man, Erickson first worked in the woods near Bark River upon his arrival from his homeland and it was there that he fixed his first watch, firing the spark that led to his life's work. It was his own watch, purchased from a mail order house for $3.50. It was a long ways from town and a jeweler, so when it stopped running he decided to try fixing it himself.

A lens from a telescope which he used in the hardwood for watching game was fashioned into a crude eye-piece, he made a tweezers of wood and fashioned a tiny screwdriver from a nail, then got permission from the camp cook to lay out the parts on a table in the cook camp on a Sunday morning and went to work.

He had plenty of suggestions from the sidelines as the lumberjacks watched him work, but when the watch was reassembled it ran and kept time. It was suggested at times that he shouldn't be working in the woods with a talent such as was his, so in 1898 he hired out to a watch repairman at Norway (Mich.) to run a bicycle shop for him, and under the tutelage of this watch repairman he learned the game.

Three years later, in 1901, he came to Gladstone and opened his own shop, conducting it successfully for almost half a century, until ill health forced his retirement. He was versatile in fields other than watch repairing. He at one time fashioned a steam engine which was so finely made that it could be made to operate by blowing into a tube leading to the cylinder, instead of using steam. He also was a good cabinet maker replace telephone wires when apparently there's nothing wrong with them?

For instance, a Michigan Bell repairman may put in new wire between your house and the telephone pole when your telephone is working all right. Why spend time and money to do that?

Here's the answer:

In its central offices, Michigan Bell has some amazing testing equipment that quickly checks thousands of telephone lines. In heavy rainstorms, tests are run to show any lines on which insulation is wearing too thin.

After long exposure to the weather, the covering on telephone wire begins to break down, letting rain water and moisture seep in. When that happens, you get noises on your line, or no service at all.

Then some fine day when our repairman has another job in your neighborhood he fixes or replaces such wires. This prevents trouble before it happens, saving you inconvenience. And it saves money, because it avoids an extra trip later, and because repairs are easier in clear weather.

Preventing trouble before it occurs means better service for you. And the money we save by this kind of "preventive maintenance" helps Michigan Bell keep down the cost of telephone service. It is one of many ways in which—

Sportsmen Meet Thursday Night

Plans for participating in the Northern Michigan Sportsman's association meeting next Sunday will be discussed by members of the Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's club at their regular meeting Thursday night, it is announced.

The meeting is slated for 7:30 at the club building, Manistique Heights.

The club will be represented by four delegates at the U. P. sportsmen's session, which will be held in Iron River.

Also on the program will be reports on a recent joint meeting in Rapid River and a district MUCC organizational conference in St. Ignace.

Lunch will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Expect Final Draft For Next Meeting

A proposed city traffic ordinance was given thorough study at a lengthy informal meeting of the Manistique city council Monday night.

William Hood, city attorney, read the proposal, totaling about 16 pages and 51 sections and made notes as various revisions were recommended. Present to study the ordinance in addition to the city attorney and council members were Sgt. N. H. Modders, commander of the local state police post; Roy Anderson, city chief of police; and Elmer Boal, fire chief.

A final draft of the ordinance is expected to be ready for study and probably first official reading, at a regular session of the council Monday night, Sept. 24.

Because of time consumed in reviewing the traffic proposal, council members did not consider a proposed dog ordinance at the informal meeting.

We must always remember and endeavor to practice the teaching of our Master and Savior, when He said:

Petoskey Girl Is Bride Sept. 9 Of Edward Saunders

Announcement has been made here of the wedding of Edward Gordon Saunders and Martha M. Garrett in Petoskey on Sunday, Sept. 9. The following account of the nuptials is taken from the Petoskey Evening News:

After a wedding trip to Canada and the Upper Peninsula, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gordon Saunders will make their home in East Lansing so that both may resume their studies at Michigan State college.

The couple was married Sunday, September 9, at the First Methodist church. Cream colored gladioli arranged by Miss Joan Treadwell and Miss Nancy Cribbs decorated the altar where the Rev. Harold A. Jayne read the double ring service.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Saunders was Martha M. Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn D. Garrett of Pearl street. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Saunders of Manistique.

Imported Lace

Bouffant overskirts of imported lace and nylon net over white taffeta styled ballerina length, distinguished the bride's gown. A short veil of illusion and a bridal bouquet of white baby mums centered with yellow roses and streamers of variegated ivy completed her costume.

The bride's sister, Miss Sally J. Garrett was maid of honor. She wore a pale green net gown and a crown of ivy leaves in her hair. Ivy streamers cascaded from her bouquet of baby mums.

Similar ballerina-length gowns in yellow, peach and orchid were worn by the bridesmaids, the Misses Mary L. Garrett, Ahsah J. Harrington and Pat Farnside, of St. Clair Shores.

Traditional wedding music was provided by Ross Stokes, Jr., at the organ and Miss Jean McVay, of Kalamazoo, sang "At Dawning" and "I Love Thee."

The best man was Albert Saunders, brother of the bridegroom.

Ushers were Peter Garrett and Pim Shanahan, of Edwardsburg, and Lawrence Lesica, of Manistique.

Mrs. Garrett was attired in a navy print with navy accessories and Mrs. Saunders chose steel gray with a lighter gray beaded bodice and black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white and yellow baby mums.

Gray for Traveling

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors where Miss Gail Thompson, of Detroit, and Mrs. Ronald Pierdon, of Lansing, presided.

For traveling the new Mrs. Saunders wore a gray suit with navy accessories.

With Ray Crandall

The Norway Vikings apparently will bring a good passing attack to Escanaba Saturday afternoon. Coach Allan Ronberg's Vikes lost a 20-0 Menominee Range game to Iron River last Saturday but the losers clicked on eight of 12 passes. Norway picked up 74 yards and four first downs through the air. Quarterback Mattia tossed most of the aerials with either Fullback Bergwall or Left Halfback Kelly receiving. The Vikes gained only 33 yards rushing to 200 for Coach Harry Monson's Redskins. The loss was the second straight for the Vikings who fell 27-6 to Stambaugh the previous Saturday.

Kingsford's surprising performance against Menominee Saturday in which the Flivvers lost 6-0 is even more impressive when you examine the statistics. The Flivvs had a 166-163 edge in yards gained by rushing. A 35-22 advantage in the passing department. And 12-9 margin in first down. Menominee's touchdown came in the closing minutes of the first half. An interference penalty on a pass play put the Kingsford defensive line back on its own six-yard line. Fullback Dick Christopherson plunked five yards and Quarterback Wayne Ewald snatched over for the TD.

The Iron County Steelers opened their independent football season Sunday afternoon with a 6-0 win over Sturgeon Bay. The Menominee-Marquette Hornets bowed 28-14 to the Oshkosh Comets in a rugged Wisconsin State Football league game in Oshkosh. Six players were ejected from the game for fighting. The Marquette high school Marines won the second game of the season by handing Chippewa Falls a 27-0 loss. Iron Mountain made the most of breaks in beating Niagara 37-7 Saturday. The Mountaineers recovered three fumbles, intercepted two passes and converted all five plays into touchdowns to take a 35-0 lead at the half.

Rocky Favored Over Janiro

Fight Tonight For Shot At Sugar Ray

DETROIT—Rocky Graziano's superior punching power makes him an 8-to-5 favorite in his scheduled 10-round middleweight bout with Tony Janiro here tonight.

The granite-chinned gladiator from the Bronx was a heavier favorite—12 to 5—in two previous bouts with the baby-faced scrapper from Youngstown, O.

The closeness of those fights, however, has cut the wagering margin.

Seek Shot At Sugar

Both fighters will be bidding for one of boxing's best "money shots"—a crack at Sugar Ray Robinson's 160-pound crown. The winner stands a good chance of gaining an engagement in February with Sugar Ray, the ring's hottest box office attraction at the moment.

The fight will be broadcast and televised over national networks at 9 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

The battle at Olympia is expected to attract Detroit's largest crowd since the Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott heavyweight bout which drew 13,852 fans last March.

Janiro Clever

Janiro's chances for victory rest on his superb boxing skill. In his previous bouts with Graziano he tied in the late rounds. But he insists he is ready to go the full distance at top speed this time.

Janiro's manager, Frankie Jacobs, declared Tony should have won both decisions in the earlier matches in New York. He contended Graziano "can get away with anything" in his home town. But, he added, Tony will "get an even break here and that's all he needs to beat Graziano."

Munn Says Spartans Better Than In '50

EAST LANSING—(AP)—Biggie Munn admitted yesterday that his 1951 Michigan State football squad looks better now than his 1950 outfit did at this time a year ago.

And that sounded like bad news for Oregon State.

"They know their way around a little better," Munn said when questioned by sports editors of Associated Press member papers at their fall meeting on the MSC campus.

Munn still complained about the big buildup his team is getting.

"The word went around that we looked good this year and everyone jumped on the bandwagon," he said.

Munn Says Spartans Better Than In '50

"We also have our worries when it comes to passing," Harris said. "We still remember well how Bob Carey (the Charlevoix end) racked up 20 points on us last year before we even got started."

Squad Arrives Friday

The Oregon State squad, now en route from the West Coast by train, planned a stopover at Chicago Thursday to unkink the stiffness from muscles cramped by Pullman sitting.

The squad will arrive here by sleeper Friday morning in time for a workout in Macklin stadium that afternoon.

MSC Athletic Director Ralph H. Young, meanwhile, predicted an attendance of about 40,000 for Saturday.

The Michigan State squad was tied up by fall registrations most of the day Tuesday but managed to get in a short scrimmage in the late afternoon.

The offensive unit worked against a freshman eleven with Willie Throver quarterbacking the team. First string quarterback Al Dorow of Inlay City exercised his leg on the sidelines but was still walking gingerly.

Thrower connected with some neat pass completions to end Bob Carey and to right half Vince Pisanio. Munn said it probably would be the last full dress scrimmage before the opener and planned only a light drill this afternoon.

Harris dropped a hint that fans expect to see a lot of passing in his outfit Saturday.

Gene Morrow is the regisseur but that everyone in backfield throws the ball.

Yanks Muff Opportunity, Drop 7-1 Loss To Chicago

BY JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Say, doesn't anybody want to win the pennant?

That seems to be the picture today as the top contenders in the American and National leagues keep passing up chance after chance to take a stranglehold on first place.

The New York Yankees appeared on the way to the American league flag after winning those vital games from Cleveland Sunday and Monday.

So what happened? The Yankees blew a 7-1 decision to the fourth place Chicago White Sox last night. That cut their lead over the Indians from a full game to a microscopic three percentage points.

Red Sox Fold

Now take Boston's third place Red Sox. Winner of six of their last seven starts, the Red Sox seemed ready to deliver the knockout punch to the groggy Indians. Instead, the Tribe sharpened their tomahawks and scalped the Bostonians, 6-4. The defeat left the Red Sox still two and a half games off the pace.

Even Brooklyn joined the act. Generally regarded as sure-fire world series participants, the Dodgers now find themselves hard put to keep the persistent New York Giants off their necks.

The Dodgers saw their once 13½ game margin shrink to three yesterday when they bowed to St. Louis Cardinals, 7-1, as the Giants took a 6-5 squeaker from Cincinnati.

While there is some reason for Dodge alarm, it would fill take a minor miracle for the Giants to overhaul them. Brooklyn owns a commanding five-game bulge in the important losing side. The Giants have only eight games left

Games Left

That's where the Yankees have their edge, too—in the losing side. Cleveland has won two more than New York but the Indians also have lost two more. They have only seven games left to 11 for New York and 12 for Boston. However, New York and Boston clash eight more times.

Pitcher Billy Pierce and outfielder Eddie Stewart collaborated to beat the Yankees. The little lefthander throttled the Yankees with eight hits for his 14th triumph. Stewart, an ex-Yankee, hit a home run to tie the score at 1-1, then shattered the deadlock with a bases-loaded single in the eighth which put the Sox in front, 3-1. Chicago added four more runs and routed Vic Raschi before the inning ended. The Yankee righthander, who was gunning for his 20th victory went down to his 10th defeat instead.

Mike Garcia, the strong-armed Cleveland righthander, was successful in his attempt for his 20th triumph. The Mexican hurler held the Red Sox to nine hits and helped himself to a mighty double in the Indians four-run sixth inning that sent Bill Wright down to his sixth defeat.

Youngsters Help

Young Tom Poholsky limited the Dodgers to eight hits in posting his sixth win for the Cards. A five-run fifth, ignited by rookie Vern Benson's home run off loser Ralph Branca, clinched the victory.

George Spencer helped Dave Koslo post his ninth New York victory with a sterling ninth inning relief job. The young right-hander retired pinch hitter Hank Edwards for the final out after the Reds had scored three times and had the tying and winning runs on base. Monte Irvin's 22nd homer in the fourth with one on proved to be the winning blow.

Elsewhere, the St. Louis Browns swept a two-night doubleheader from Washington, 8-0 and 3-2; Detroit topped the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-6; Pittsburgh nipped Boston's Braves, 6-5 and Chicago's Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phils, 7-4.

Tommy Byrne was the whole show for the Browns. He blanked the Senators with three hits and helped his cause with a grand slam homer in the opener. His pinch hit single drove in the winning run in the 10th inning of the nightcap.

Ralph Kiner blasted his 41st homer to give Pittsburgh its winning margin.

Eskys Eye Vikes As Third Victim

The Escanaba Eskymos this week are eyeing Norway as a candidate for their third straight football victim of the 1951 season.

Although the Vikes are sporting a record of one win against a pair of defeats to date, Eskey coaches and players are wary of Allan Ronberg's Menominee Range charges.

Expect Rebound

Besides the fact that Norway will be seeking to wipe the past two losses from memory (27-6 to Stambaugh and 20-0 to Iron River), the Vikes are expected to be "up" as usual for the Escanaba game. In past years Norway has consistently proved one of Escanaba's toughest hurdles.

Injury Plaque

Injuries are still dogging the Eskymos and several regulars have yet to take the practice field this week. Jerry Bolm, tackle, has a bad ankle and Paul Davidson, center, has a hip injury that prohibits contact work. Coaches are uncertain whether they will be in condition to start Saturday afternoon.

Tom Smith, Halfback, is still a question mark.

Smith has a bruised shoulder muscle that kept him out of uniform for the Ironwood game last Saturday. Charles Belletuile handled Smith's halfback duties last week and may be called on again.

Workouts continue this week with special attention on Norway's passing threat. The Vikes completed eight of 12 passes against Stambaugh last Saturday.

Detroit Lions Get Pat Harder

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex.—The Detroit Lions, already deemed a contender in the forthcoming National Football league race, got extra help at fullback today with the acquisition of the veteran Pat Harder.

The former Wisconsin star was obtained from the Chicago Cardinals in a trade for Johnny Pannelli and a draft choice.

Harder, who led the NFL in scoring in three of his five years in the pro circuit, had a salary dispute with the Cardinals and refused to sign. He readily agreed to terms, however, with Coach Buddy Parker of the Lions. Parker was Harder's coach while with the Cardinals.

Good Place-Kicker

When the deal was completed Curley Lambeau, coach of the Cardinals, told Parker: "Buddy, I have just given you the championship."

Harder is an excellent offensive fullback. In addition, he is a good place-kicker, particularly on field goals, a department in which the 1951 Lions club can use help.

Harder will not play in the Lions' game against the New York Yanks in Houston Friday night but will be ready for the opener against the Washington Redskins at Briggs stadium on Sept. 30.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Eddie Stewart, White Sox—homered and singled with the bases loaded to highlight six-run attack in eighth inning as Chicago whipped the New York Yankees, 7-1.

Pitching—Tom Poholsky, Cardinals—scattered eight hits as he upset the Brooklyn Dodgers, 7-1, to cut the Brooks' first place lead over the Giants to three games.

MOST POPULAR—Virgil Pizzala, Fayette pitcher and first baseman, was recently voted the most popular player in the Bay de Noc Baseball league. Pizzala has been a regular on the Fayette team for the past four seasons. He also copped the league batting trophy the past season with a husky .475 average. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pizzala of Fayette.

Blaney Cubs Cop 3-0 Playoff Tilt In U. P. Central

GULLIVER—With victory in their first clash tucked away, the Blaney Cubs will journey to Grand Marais Sunday for the second of a three game series for the championship of the Upper Peninsula Central Baseball league.

The Cubs pounded out a 3-0 win over Grand Marais on the Blaney diamond Sunday afternoon, and are all set to repeat the performance in Burt township next Sunday.

D. Kane and L. McDonald are expected to form the battery for Grand Marais in the second encounter. Glen Brawley will probably get the Blaney mound assignment, with Charles Marshall receiving.

Pat Shaw Member of Alma Football Team

MANISTIQUE—Pat Shaw, former Manistique high school track and football star, is a member of the 1951 Alma College Scots, defending MIAA football champions.

The Scots open the season next Saturday in a home game against Selbridge Field.

Pat is the son of Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Shaw, 201 R a n g e street, Manistique.

Gladstone Coach Sees Trouble At Manistique

GLADSTONE—Coach Don Pionenhauer didn't sound very optimistic about the Braves' chances for running their victory string to three games as they started preparations for the night tilt against Manistique at the Schoolcraft county seat Saturday.

Halfback Tom Cannon was sidelined in the Munising game by injuries and the local mentor said that it is doubtful if he will be able to start the game. Tackle Bill Bovin came out of the game with a charley-horse, but otherwise the team is in pretty fair shape.

Pionenhauer points out that Manistique is always tough on their home field and that victory over Gladstone will atone for some games that haven't gone the way the Schoolcrafters would have liked them to.

Another factor that Coach Pionenhauer sees as a stumbling block is the heaviness of this weekend's foe, which he said will outweigh the Braves ten pounds a man.

One or two night practices will be held under the lights at the Central playground.

Soli, Marquette; Watson, Ishpeming and St. Fermain, Marquette, will handle the game.

Lipon Stars At Plate As Tigers Tip Athletics 8-6

PHILADELPHIA—The box score of the Detroit Tigers' game with the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday had some impressive figures after the name of shortstop Johnny Lipon.

Five times at bat, one run, five hits, four putouts and five assists.

That's batting 1.000 percent. Thanks to Johnny's pace-setting, the Tigers won 8-6 even as the A's pounded out 12 hits against their 13.

Steve Souchock and Hoot Evers helped, too. Each batted out his 11th homer of the season.

Souchock's homer came in the third inning after Vic Wertz had walked. Evers homered in the fifth with the bases empty.

Lipon opened the Tigers' attack with a double in the first inning and scored on two infield outs.

Tiger Scoring

The Tigers slammed Sam Zoldak from the box in the second inning that saw four runs scored.

Evers started the rally with a double and went to third on Don Kolloway's infield hit. Bob Swift hit back to Zoldak and Evers was trapped between bases. But catcher Joe Tipton dropped the ball in the rundown and Evers scored. Kolloway reached third and Swift held first. Then the Tiger starting pitcher Virgil Trucks, doubled to score Kolloway. Joe Coleman relieved Zoldak and Lipon gave him a warm welcome. The little shortstop singled to score both Swift and Trucks.

The A's got one run off Trucks in the first and two more in the fifth on four hits and a fielder's choice. Their three-run sixth inning rally sent Trucks to the showers. Ferris Fain homered with two mates aboard.

1,402 At Game

Hal White came in to put out the fire and save the victory for Trucks, who was credited with his 11th win against eight losses. Trucks allowed 11 hits in six and a third inning. White held the A's to one hit the rest of the way.

A crowd of only 1,402 saw the game between the second division clubs.

In the final of the two-game series today, Freddie Hutchinson (9-9) is expected to pitch for the Tigers. Bob Shantz (16-9) is the probable pitcher for the A's.

Miss Garland's health cracked under the strain of trying to keep her weight down for her movie roles.
"I'm not going to attempt to regain one of those sleek Hollywood figures," she said. "I feel too good this way."

Raft Lethargia Short On Crew

Man Needed To Float Down Mississippi

CAIRO, Ill.—(AP)—The two unmarried girls and two bachelors bound for New Orleans made a stopover at Cairo today—last port of call on the Ohio river before they float into the Mississippi on the raft Lethargia.

All's well with the floating four, but as yet they have been unable to find a replacement for one of the crew who will leave the craft within a week. Don Brown, 23, is scheduled to return to his studies at the University of Michigan.

Unless another hand is found that will leave only Skipper Mary McCrady, 24, of Washington, D. C. Geraldine Garcia, 24, of Boston and 30-year-old Milton Bordon of New Bedford, Mass., available for the rest of the trip.

Skipper McCrady has just one requirement to be met by the replacement he must be "agreeable."

Original reports declared the four were making the trip as a sociological experiment to study human behavior in cramped quarters.

Now, however, Miss McCrady states that it actually is a pleasure trip, although she always has been interested in the study of group living habits.

Thus far the group has had occasional arguments, but except that Brown and Bordon have heavy beards and the Misses McCrady and Garcia have decided on blue jeans as regulation garb, things are unchanged. The group is as sincere about finishing the trip as when it left New Kensington, Pa., June 10.

The party hopes to reach New Orleans by Oct. 1. The raft will leave here sometime tomorrow.

State Secures Steel To Start New Office Building At Lansing

LANSING — (AP)—The state today obtained release of 350 tons of steel to start construction of its new state office building and remodel its old, fire-damaged office building.

At the same time, the state administrative board said it would permit none of its contractors to go into the so-called "gray market" for steel.

Detroit Tells Why He Killed Unwanted Boarder In His Home

DETROIT—(AP)—Luigi Castelvete, 56, told a jury how he killed Rocco Arrone, 48, the unwanted boarder in his home.

The $14 he took from Arrone's wallet he used later to buy flowers for Rocco's funeral, Castelvete said.

On trial for murder, Castelvete talked in broken English before a recorder's court jury of eight women and four men.

Members of the defendant's family have testified that Arrone was tyrannical toward them and threatened them with violence. Castelvete has pleaded self-defense.

Once defense counsel Joseph W. Louisell asked Castelvete if he owned a gun and Luigi replied: "No. If I did I would have killed him long ago."

Arrone was slain in the basement of the Castelvete home last Jan. 13. Castelvete's son, Joseph, 30, put the body in a car and drove to Martin's Ferry, O., where he set fire to the car.

The son attempted to take the blame for the killing, but later he and the family said it was the father who did it.

Governor Williams told the board that the National Production Authority had released a fourth quarter allocation of steel after having previously turned it down. Further allotments must be sought, he said.

The board rejected the proposal of Sorenson and Gross, Flint contractors for the new office building, to go into the "open market" and buy steel at an additional cost of $34,000.

The board was told that the proposed purchase would be of free or unallocated steel and that the purchase would be legal. Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., proposed however, that the board place a blanket ban on any "gray market" steel.

State Of Michigan To Give 84 Carloads Of Food For CROP

LANSING — (AP)—Michigan's share of the Christian Rural Overseas Program — CROP — this year is 84 carloads of food for the hungry of the world.

The national goal is 1,450 carloads of food—wheat, corn, soybeans and dried milk, especially.

Since CROP was established in 1947, more than 5,400 carloads of food have been sent overseas.

Governor Williams proclaimed Oct. 21 as CROP Sunday and the following six days as CROP Week, urging donations of food and cash "to the end that our less fortunate fellowmen may be sustained and nourished."
